

180 responses

 View in Sheets

Accepting responses

Summary

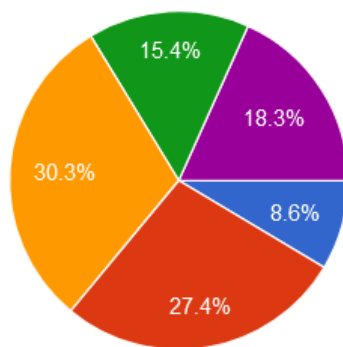

Question

Individual

As the total cost for golf and lunch is increasing, what entry cost are you willing to pay for Special Events?

 Copy

175 responses

- $60 or less
- $70 or less
- $80 or less
- $90 or less
- $100 or less

If the cost target can be met should Special Events continue to include lunch?

 Copy

174 responses

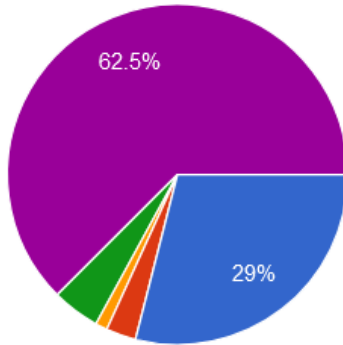

- Yes
- No

What team formats do you like?

 Copy

176 responses

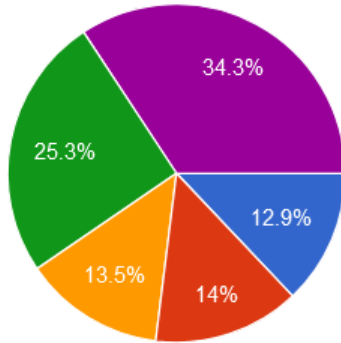

- Scramble
- Shamble
- Ryder Cup
- Best Ball
- All of the above, I like variety.

How many Special Events do you play in each year?

 Copy

178 responses

- 0
- 1
- 2
- 3
- 4 to 6

If your answer to the above question is "0" or "1", what best describes your reasons?

63 responses

Summary

180 members responded, 87% of the responders played in at least one special event, and 60% played in 3 or more events.

Cost – about 1/3 of those responding are willing to pay up to $90 for a Special Event entry fee, 64% are willing to pay up to $80.

About 2/3 of the responses were yes to include lunch if the cost target can be met.

Conclusions

87% of the 180 survey responses were from 156 members who have played in Special Events. Therefore, the conclusions from the survey came from roughly 25% of the Metro Seniors members, most of those were have played in Special Events. So far in 2023 there have been 204 Metro Seniors members participating in Special Events.

64% were willing to pay up to $80 for an event, so $80 or less is a good guideline and 33% were willing to pay up to $90.

Lunch will be included if the all-in entry cost can stay at $80 or less ($7 prize fee and $2 credit card fee is added to the course cost for golf and lunch). Two nice country club events a year will go up to $90.

Almost 2/3 of those responding liked the variety of formats with scrambles being the most popular.